Jingle Bells & Christmas Carols, Wrapping Paper, Bows, & Decorations. I think we are full swing into the holiday season! And, I for one LOVE this time of year. Yes, it is chaotic, busy and exhausting. But all the good things about it outweigh everything else. I just recently went to Washington State for one day to surprise my Mom for her 80th birthday. We had severe delays and lost baggage, and we almost didn't go. But, her tears of happiness and surprise made it all worth it. So, as we begin this crazy, yet wonderful, time of year, let us always remember that it's the people and the moments we create with them that will last a lifetime and are the true gifts to treasure.

Just a couple of things to remember for this month: Our simple Christmas program will be on the evening of the 18th at 6:00PM, in the church. Your little ones will sing their hearts out and maybe even cry a little since it is new and a little overwhelming for them to be up front. But, it is priceless to see them trying their best to share what they have learned with you. Our last day of school for the year is Friday the 20th. It is a minimal day and we will dismiss at noon. Your children will have had a morning full of Christmas fun and partying with their class. Look for signup sheets for cookies and such to help with the class parties. And, sticking to tradition, the teachers will be celebrating with me and their co-workers for the rest of the day, before we head out to be with our families for the holidays. We will see you back here for the New Year on January 2nd. We don't expect everyone will be back since many kids don't start back to school until January 6th. But, we will be here.

Have a wonderful December and Beginning of the New Year! We are continually blessed with new students and many of them are referrals from you! Thank you for trusting us with your little ones. We don't always have perfect days, but the love, honesty, and dedication we have never changes. And, our full classrooms show that you trust us to do our best with your precious children. Thank you from the bottom of my heart. Happy Holidays!

Sincerely,

Ms. Penny Corpus, Director
